

Mission Statement

To provide law enforcement agencies no-cost forensic training, educational materials and support in all forensic disciplines.

The Northern California Forensic Study Group fosters learning by working with scientists, educators and inventors to create an academically enriching environment for the forensic community.